What's UP WITH OUR Members

Legends at the VA Hospital Parade in Bonham, TX on Saturday, June 13

Jim Brummett's Red Patriotic 2017 Coupe followed by Ed Atchley's 1999 Silver Lingenfelter Convertible and Kimberly Atchley with her 2005/1962-style Retro Vette.

Parker Square Car Show, Flower Mound, TX Saturday, June 13

Bill & Diane Preston's Black 1957, Al & Barb Macdonald's Red 1960 and 2014 Green Convertible.(above)

(Not Pictured) Tom Entrekin reached a milestone in the restoration of his 1956 Corvette this week. He started the engine!!! We anticipate that things will move along rapidly now. Also his long-lost door parts were found in Bill Preston's attic... Tom kept telling him they were up there.

C-8 Z06 Rumored To Get Massive Tires & Active AERO

According to a newly leaked GM document, the Next C8 performance iteration, the Z06, will be coming out in 2022! Like all past Z06's, this one will be track-ready, but still suitable for getting milk at the local store, but hopefully with a curvy road to get you there.

On top of the normally aspirated, flat-plane crank, 5.5-liter DOHC V8 we have talked about in the past (with 650 horsepower and 600 pound-feet of torque), it will be getting 20-inch wheels in front, and 21-inch wheels in back, both with Michelin Pilot Sport Cup 2 R tires (275/30 front and massive 345/25 on the back). It is not clear if these tires will be stock, or an upgraded tire on a package like the Z07 was on the C7's.

To save weight, the C8 Z06 may even come with a carbon fiber wheel option, but again, this is just a rumor.

To help push these tires down on the ground at speed, and while not slowing you down on the straight-aways, Chevrolet maybe adding the active aerodynamic features GM has applied for patents on. This could include adjustable wings, splitters, and even side flaps.

On a side note, Chevrolet has announced they will have a right-hand drive ready to ship to the rest of the world in 2021!

New spy photos were offered up today and they not only show the C8 Corvette Z06 coupe and convertible out on public roads, but for the first time, we are seeing a center-mounted exhaust on the mid-engine sports car. He was also able to capture the sound of the high-revving DOHC V8 engine as a prototype rapidly accelerated through the first few gears of the dual-clutch transmission.

The center-mounted exhaust was unexpected but again something that was recently rumored, and the set-up is shown on both the Coupe and Convertible Z06 models. Based on a close-up photo of the exhaust tips, it looks like there will be two large center-mounted exhaust ports with a single, smaller-diameter port stationed off to each side. I really like how thick and beefy those center tips look as well!

As compared with the regular C8 Corvette Stingray in the group, the prototype Z06 features a much wider stance. The wheels for the Z06 are staggered with 20s in the front and 21s in the back and sized 275 and 345 respectively. Michelin is once again providing the massive grip with their Pilot Sport Cup 2 tires.

The Z06's wheels and brakes are hidden, but it's been previously rumored that factory-optional carbon fiber wheels may be coming to the Corvette line-up with the Z06 as another first.
