The early birds find a dry spot to wait for Cafe del Rio to open

Corvette Legends of Texas General Meeting
Saturday, August 11, 2018
Café del Rio, Allen, TX

The Members of Corvette Legends were called to order by Sam Deneault, President, at 12:05 pm. The minutes were approved.

New Club Member: Billy Johnson 2003 Black Vette
Guests: Mike Warriner, 1981 Black/Gold trim Vette
Lady Legends Winner: Kathy Hubbert
50/50 Pot Winner: Nick Bernier ($54)

Diane Preston commented that many had not received the Newsletter because of the mercury spill at the postal facility in Coppell, but it has been mailed.

Tom Lainson reported that the club has 132 members, and he is very impressed with the quality of the new member's cars.

The opportunity for club members to participate in the Park Place Collectors Concours on Oct. 13 was discussed by Tom Lainson. He has made arrangements for 15 slots for club members who wish to participate—the price is $35/car for the club area. He is looking for 2-3 cars from each series (C-1, C-2, etc.) to be represented. The show is limited, and 2-3 pictures of each car, with brief description, must be submitted to the committee for consideration. Please contact Tom for more information if you are interested in participating.

Joel Joseph introduced club member, John Cantle-

berry, who gave a brief program on Social Security. He provided information on the many decisions that need to be made regarding; when to apply, how benefits are calculated, working after receiving benefits, spousal benefits, etc. He also announced that they were the proud owners of a new 2019 Torch Red Corvette.

Joel Joseph identified future club meetings through the rest of the year: Sept. 8 at Hula Hut in Little Elm, Oct. 13 at Pappasitos in Dallas, Nov. 10 at La Hacienda Ranch in Carrollton, Dec. 8 at BJs Brewery in Addison, which will include election of officers.

Jerry Echols has not received final information regarding the State Fair, but he has submitted preferred date as Oct. 14, with Oct. 7 or 21 as fall-back dates. There is a new location (again)—this time almost under the ferris wheel. He requested space for 25-30 cars, and so far 25 have signed up.

Special thanks to Mary Jean & Tom Entrekin with help from Al Lisbona for the great job they did developing the July 28 dinner cruise “scenic” route leading to dinner at Barb & Al Macdonald’s home. A large crowd enjoyed the food, entertainment and hospitality provided by the Macdonalds.

Tom Lainson reminded members of the Sulphur Springs Corvette Show on Oct. 26-27. There have been changes in the judging and layout for this year’s show.

The Weekend Wrench group will meet on Tue. Aug.

Billy Johnson
Heath, TX
2003 Black Coupe

Here's the story of my 59. In 1991, my father purchased the Corvette for about $35k. I was 22 and a junior in college. It was a long-time dream of my father's to own a Corvette. He once told me, that if he'd done more research, he would've purchased a 60's Corvette, because it would have modern traits like power steering and brakes. Anyway, everyone loved the car. Whenever my brother or I would visit my parents, they lived in New Jersey at the time, we would take it out for a drive.

One of our favorite places to go, was the Black Horse Pub. My parents would take my dad's car, and I would take the Vette. The car would be valet parked, and it always had pride of place. My parents and I would get a window seat, and watch the people who would check out the Vette. One evening, we were at the pub, and saw a man walking past the car, and he was looking at it. As he passed the car I told my parents, "It's okay, he'll turn around and have a closer look." Sure enough, the man turned around and had a closer look.

Eventually, my career, took me to Dallas, where my brother, and his family lived. In time, when my father was forced to retire, he and my mother moved here too. I'd like to think it was because I was here, but who am I kidding? My brother, and his wife, had a beautiful girl, so I'm pretty sure they came out for her, and over time, they would have two more.

And of course, the Corvette came out with them. While driving the winding roads of Chester, NJ was better than the straight roads of Plano, it is always a pleasure to drive the Vette. One day, I was out for a drive with my dad. I had been concerned about him being retired, and would he like it, so I asked him about it. He replied, "Ya know, it's OK. Every day is a Saturday." I felt better.

Anyway, after a time, the Corvette was parked in my brother's garage, and there it sat. I'd say it was there for at least three years, and my sister-in-law, Joan, hated it. Over the years, the tires went flat, and the gas gummed up the carburetor. I told my dad, "I have a garage, and would be more than happy to drive it from time to time. So around 2008, my dad gave me the Corvette.

I genuinely enjoy the Corvette. I take more pleasure out of the joy it brings other people, than I do, owning the car. Many years ago, when I lived in Dallas, I would go to Keller's Drive

In, on a Saturday night. They would host an unofficial car show. One evening, as things were winding down, a car drove by, and stopped by my Corvette. A little girl, maybe about seven, got out and started taking pictures of the Corvette. I thought to myself, this is probably the closest that this girl will get to owning a classic car. I approached her, and asked if she'd like to sit in the car, and I would take her picture. She agreed, and I took a few pics of her in the drivers seat. To this day, that is my favorite memory. It brings a tear to my eye, thinking about it.

Over the years, we have put a lot of money into the car. I plan on gifting it, no time soon, to one of my nieces. We took it to Carr's Corvettes And Customs, and had him install front disc brakes, power steering, and unknown to me, it was repainted. It looks gorgeous, and according to Carr, is worth in the neighborhood of $90k. My niece, who I plan on giving the Corvette to, doesn't know how to drive a manual transmission. Fortunately, my father has a 2004 Corvette ZO6, with a manual, so they will learn on that. Not ideal, but we don't know anyone with a car that has a manual transmission. Anyway, one of the improvements on the '59 is a 5-speed transmission, that is similar in feel to the ZO6.

So that's the story of my 1959 Corvette. A dream that my father was able to fulfill, and I'm happy to know that I'll be able to keep it in the family.

I'd like to leave you with this. My life-long dream was to be a professional pilot. After many years, and the unflinching support of my parents, I achieved that dream. Over time I became a captain for American Eagle Airlines, earning my type rating in the Saab 340 turbo-prop, and the Embraer 145 Regional Jet. Several years ago, I suffered the rupture of an AVM in my cerebellum. (Google it) Anyway, after having brain surgery, to remove the AVM, I lost my medical certificate, and was unable to fly. I was left with various disabilities, but I'm still able to drive. Driving the Corvette is just that much more special, and I would ask all of you, especially those that own a classic, take a bit more joy when you drive it. Remember that you are one of the few who still cherish the vehicle, and value it's impact on the history of, not just the American vehicle history, but of the history of vehicles, world wide. We own a part of history. A history that must be preserved.
